A Little About Kamp-Rite

Kamp-Rite truly are the innovators in off-the-ground camping gear!

We were established back in 1998 in Lovelock, Nevada. Our business began, like most successful businesses, as a dream. Our founder was presented with an idea which he took and developed, which now forms the foundation model of our range, the Original TentCot. Due to it's huge success in the domestic USA market, we then decided we would venture to the world with our concepts, with our Australian Office being established.

Interestingly, Australia has the highest per-capita camping 'mindset' in the developed world.

This office acts as our link in our International push. It was also from this point that the development of other lines within our range grew. The introduction of the Oversize and the Double TentCots, as well as lines developed specifically for Government bodies such as the military and emergency services.

Today, we have over 13 products in our inventory. Our developers are constantly investigating and playing with new ideas, some of which are now added to this catalogue.

We have successfully become known as the leader in what we do, our product quality stands alone on any of our competitor brands. because we use the best manufacturing processes and materials in making our products, with a quality testing program that is second to none.

Our Original TentCot, pictured below, can withstand a huge 695 lbs or 318 kg before it will break! All of our products have a nominal weight rating of 140 kg or more.

We challenge you to find an alternative product that has such huge weight capacities.
